

Why we are Unique

Our uniqueness as a skin care company lies in a combination of factors. Firstly, our products and processes are innovative and unique. We use natural, preferably certified organic, safe, therapeutic quality ingredients in all of our creams. Our creams are wild crafted and formulated by Master herbalist from natural ingredients, ensuring that they are not only effective, but also safe for use on the skin.

Additionally, we have developed an ECO friendly, cold processing method to minimize the side effects of heating and mixing processes. This method not only reduces the environmental impact of our production, but also ensures that the ingredients in our creams are not damaged or degraded by heat.

Another unique aspect of our company is that we do not use preservatives in our creams. Instead, we have developed a process to eliminate any initial pathogens from all ingredients from the cream. This ensures that our creams are not only safe and effective, but also free from any harmful chemicals or preservatives.

We are also not bulk producers, and all of our products are available fresh, hand-crafted, herbalist formulated, and produced in small quantities. This ensures that our customers always receive the freshest and highest quality products.

Furthermore, we use ancient beauty and healing remedies with cold production and ultrasound wave processes to produce superior quality, organic, vegan, skin care creams. We are ECO aware and carefully and sustainably source ingredients, and we research and develop ECO friendly, greener formulations and processes to minimize our environmental impact.

In summary, our unique and special qualities as a skin care company include our innovative and unique products and processes, the use of natural, organic, and safe ingredients, our eco-friendly production methods, and our commitment to producing high-quality, hand-crafted, herbalist-formulated products.
